EQUALIZATION TO BE FINISHED BY THE BOARD TODAY

Probably Final Meeting to Be Held at Courthouse for Purpose of Deciding Cases Taken Under Consideration.

The county commissioners will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the courthouse for their final session as the board of equalization. Today the board will give its decision in cases taken under consideration.

Yesterday the board members spent inspecting property the assessment of which had been postponed again and upon which they had not passed. Most of the property inspected is in the city, although several pieces were outside the limits but not far from them. They went about in an automobile.

At the hearings Monday and Tuesday, the members granted but few reductions in the valuations fixed by the county assessor and most of them were for small amounts, so unless great cuts are made in some of the cases under consideration, the total assessment of the county will not be materially altered. The total amount of the reduction probably will be known after the meeting this afternoon.

On next Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Crystal Theater, the Barrett Amusement company will present the first of the V. L. S. E. photoplays, for the entire output of which they recently contracted.

Of particular interest to motion picture patrons here will be the fact that the first subject to be shown, "The Juggernaut," has for the two female leads, Anna Stewart and Julia Swayne Gordon, while playing opposite them is that sterling actor, Earl Williams.

The production of "The Egyptian Princess" yesterday afternoon by the young ladies of St. Vincent's academy brought out a crowd that taxed the capacity of the Crystal theater, where the play was staged. The performance was preceded by the presentation of diplomas and other graduation exercises.

Miss Eulalia Ysarrri, in the title role, scored a distinct triumph, while Miss Anita Garcia, Miss Irma Lix, Miss Margaret McCanna, Miss Dorothy Butler, Miss Katherine Keleher, Miss Grace Baxter, Miss Marie Balling, Miss Helen Lee and Miss Cecelia Murphy formed a supporting company that made the play one of the best amateur productions ever staged in Albuquerque.

There will be a banquet by the alumnae association of St. Vincent's at the academy this evening which will bring to a close the most brilliant commencement ever experienced by this splendid institution.

BIG CROWD GIVES BEAUTY SPECIAL THE TWICE OVER

Dazzling Array of Radiant Femininity Creates Sensation When Unique Party of Tourists Makes Short Stop.

Miss Benson, of New York City, one of the beauties on the "Universal Film company's beauty special," was taken ill here. She was forced to leave the train and to remain at the Alvarado hotel. Mrs. H. Van Loan, of New York, stayed with her. Her condition was regarded last night as dangerous.

Nobody stopped to estimate the crowd—everybody was too busy looking at the dear young creatures—but there have been several presidents of the United States to pass through Albuquerque who were greeted by a throng of admirers. The "beauty special" of the Universal Film company which made a stop of a half hour here yesterday en route to the California coast.

The crowd gave the beauties the twice over, once when they got off the train and started into the curio room, and once when they came out of the curio room and got back on the train. And having sized them up on points in a thoroughly judicial manner, it was the unanimous verdict that the beauties were well up to their advance notices.

There were tall beauties and petite beauties, blonde beauties and brunette beauties, slim beauties and plump beauties, young beauties and old beauties, and all of them were more beautiful than others, but those who were not so beautiful as the others were the chaperones.

All Sorts of Men.

In the crowd that came down for the inspection were men of every age and station—of every conceivable condition of servitude. There was the cowering Johnnie who is simply irresistible to the fair sex and who spent his time making rapid-fire acquaintances, collecting cards and finding distant relations among the members of the party. Along with him was the business man who sent his friend wife to the mountains last week and who was careful to keep his hat on in order that no undue attention might be called to the little, but steadily growing, bald spot on the pinnacle of his dome of thought.

There was the old codger with white whiskers standing off on the edge of the crowd, who was satisfied just to be there and look 'em over.

The party is made up of representatives of every state in the union, winners of contests conducted by newspapers in their different states or sections of the country. The New Mexico members of the party are Miss Ruth Safford, daughter of Charles V. Safford, private secretary to Senator A. B. Fall. Miss Safford caught the train at Lamy yesterday morning and with the exception of the Arizona representative, who will be taken on at Alamo Canyon, is the last member of the party.

Accompanying the tourists and covering the story of the trip for their papers are Jane Frye of the Boston Herald and Traveler, and Pauline Smith, of the Cleveland News.

Exceptionally clever newspaper women.

JEALOUSY CAUSES DOUBLE TRAGEDY NEAR CARRIZOZO

Domestic Troubles Lead Samuel Potts to Kill Hired Man and Then Turn Pistol on Himself.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Carrizozo, N. M., June 9.—About 9 o'clock this morning, Samuel Potts, proprietor of a dairy near Carrizozo, shot and killed a man named Coleman, who had been in his employment for the last three months, and then killed himself.

Domestic trouble is supposed to have been at the bottom of the double tragedy. Coleman came here early in the spring and went to work for Potts. An attachment between him and Mrs. Potts is said to have been, and gossip regarding them was persistent.

Potts had been in the dairy business here for several years. He was a quiet, hard-working man, was well liked and appeared to be prosperous in his business. His wife and a six-year-old son survive him. The news of the tragedy created a profound shock in the community.

Immediately after information of the double killing reached here the sheriff, acting as coroner, impounded a jury and went to the place of the killing on Potts' ranch, but he tonight their finding had not been made public.

LOTTIE PICKFORD

AT THE PASTIME

THEATER TODAY

"The Diamond From the Sky" undermines the process of modernization

in this chapter, entitled "An Eye for an Eye." Some twenty-one years are passed over which space of time completely transfers the period of the picture's action from the past to the present.

This lapse of years finds the two ladies and the one little boy, introduced in chapter one, full grown persons. Consequently the three big stars of the photoplay, playing the three main characters are for the first time introduced as exponents of the American company's romantic novel.

Lottie Pickford, Irving Cummings

and William Russell constitute this trio. Miss Pickford is the heroine, the real child of Cummings.

It need hardly be mentioned that each of these three players possesses

the characteristic requirements of their respective roles, and the little seen of them in this chapter merely whets the appetite for more.

On the other hand, Hagar, the gypsy mother, played by Eugene Ford,

still remains in the novel and performs very well, while George Per-riolat, playing Luke Lovell, the gypsy, has yet been honored with few opportunities over which to display his reserved villainy.

The picture continues on its glorious path with regard to photographic, scenic and light effects, while the story in itself reels on with ever increasing interest. Elsewhere in this play you will find a story revealing

Ray McCardell as the author of "The Diamond From the Sky." The merits of the plot's construction may be more fully appreciated now that the author's name has been announced.

A brief synopsis of the action of this
